LIFE. STYLE. STRATEGY.

Without over-thinking it, rank your level of satisfaction in each area, with 1 representing the lowest level of satisfaction and 10 representing the highest. Connect the numbers with a straight line to create a second, inner wheel. Examine the wheel you have created and then ask yourself...

"If I want to travel far with this wheel, how bumpy would my ride be?"

Think about which categories you'd most like to improve and which ones you'd like to start with. Then create an action plan, with small, manageable steps. You can certainly do this on your own, but I would be honored to assist you. Either way, I hope you enjoy the journey.
